Your Daughters Gang Sign

A mother smiles as her daughter flashes this gang sign, the Girl Scout Salute. A sign that binds its members together, a promise each girl voluntarily makes. Not a rule of her family. Not a command from her school. Your daughter is not forced to flash this sign. She will deliberately choose to do so.

The Girl Scout Salute is a promise to address the needs of young girls . . .

- acceptance
- affection
- freedom from physical and social harm
- recognition to stand out as an individual
- positive role models

The Girl Scouts offers the only gang where each girl is challenged to grow physically, mentally, socially and spiritually. The Girl Scouts teach the values that provide meaning and direction to your daughter's life.

The Girl Scouts, however, do demand one thing in return for the magic they will perform upon your daughter. An investment from you, in your daughter.. An investment in the best gang a mother could ask for.
